HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

In 1909 the first Naval Postgraduate School, then called the Postgraduate Department of the U.S. Naval Academy, was established at Annapolis, Maryland. On June 9 that year ten students made up the class, three professors formed the faculty, and Marine Engineering was the only curriculum. When the first class graduated in 1911, Beekman Winthrop, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, said, "There will be some day a postgraduate course to call all the officers of the Navy together. This school is the beginning, and may be the one on which the Navy Department of the future may have to depend." As the school expanded over the next seven decades, his words have proved prophetic.

During World War I, the school closed, but classes resumed in 1919. Two years later the department was renamed the United States Naval Postgraduate School. In 1927, the General Line Course was established to acquaint junior line officers with modern developments within the Navy and broaden their professional knowledge for future command at sea.

World War II caused tremendous expansions of activities and a large increase in student enrollment. The school grew to meet the needs of the Navy, and more courses were added to the curriculum. After the 1945 armistice, the Navy began plans to move the school away from Annapolis and improve its professional status. Between 1945 and 1948, Congress established the school as a separate activity under its own superintendent, created the office of academic dean, granted the superintendent authority to award the bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees and approved Monterey, California as the future home of the school.

After purchasing the former Hotel Del Monte and the surrounding acreage, the Navy officially established the school on the West Coast in 1951. Since moving to Monterey the postgraduate school has focused upon professional graduate education.

To meet this end, the Navy has made a strong commitment to quality postgraduate education of its officer corps — and for good reason. In addition to meeting the needs for near-term functional skills, this investment has served as a mechanism for sustaining the foundation of intellectual vigor in critical areas of expertise. Experience has proven that graduate level education is a fundamental constituent in the building of operational, technical, and managerial skills essential to maintaining institutional excellence in the face of dramatic change.

In support of national defense requirements, the Naval Postgraduate School graduates an average of 800 officers a year, and offers a variety of courses in science, management and engineering. In addition, its faculty members are dedicated to providing the highest quality education for their students — more than 1200 officers of all five U.S. services, 25 allied nations and U.S. government civilians.

academic dress

The cap and gown and colorful hood so prominent in commencement ceremonies resemble to some extent articles of dress worn by church and university dignitaries in the Middle Ages. The cap and gown indicate that the wearer is a member of a university or college. The hood shows the degree the wearer holds.

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. The master's gown has closed sleeves, square at the end, the arms coming through a slit at the elbow; it may be worn open or closed. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves and may be worn open or closed. Down the front the doctor's gown has a facing of velvet and three bars of the same material on each sleeve. The facing and bars may be either black or the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The cap is worn for all degrees; the doctor may wear a golden tassel.

Hoods are normally black with a colorful lining rolled outward. Bachelor's hoods are three feet long, master's three and one half feet, and doctor's four feet.

For all academic purposes, including trimmings for the doctor's gown, edgings of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Agriculture	Maize	Library Science	Lemon
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White	Music	Pink
Business, Commerce	Drab	Pharmacy	Olive Green
Education	Light Blue	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Engineering	Orange	Physical Education	Sage Green
Forestry	Russet	Science	Golden Yellow
Home Economics	Maroon	Theology	Scarlet
Law	Purple	Veterinary Science	Gray

The silk or satin lining of the hood is the color or colors of the university or college which conferred the degree. Some have a slash or chevron of contrasting color. For example:

University Granting Degree	Lining	Slash or Chevron
University of Wisconsin	Bright Red
University of Minnesota	Old Gold	Maroon
Yale University	Blue
University of California	Gold	Yale Blue
University of Washington	Purple Above Gold
University of Oregon	Lemon Yellow	Dark Green
New York University	Violet
Stanford University	Cardinal
Columbia University	Light Blue	White
University of Michigan	Maize	Blue
University of Texas	White Above Orange	Burnt Orange
Duke University	Royal Blue	White
Cornell University	Cardinal	Two White
Harvard University	Crimson
Michigan State University	Green	White
Iowa State University	Gold Above Cardinal
State University of Iowa	Old Gold
Oregon State University	Burnt Orange
Lewis and Clark College	Princeton Orange	Black, Orange
University of Denver	Cardinal	Gold

The Naval Postgraduate School hood has a satin lining of dark blue with a gold chevron.
