Edge Center - Welcome

The Edge Center operates through the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS), with Professor Mark Nissen serving as Director. Research associated with this Center is multidisciplinary, innovation-oriented, and reaches well beyond the NPS, involving a world-class team of faculty, postdocs and PhD students from multiple, top universities (e.g., Stanford, Southern Cal). The Edge Center is outward-focused, working to extend the state of the art and state of the practice in command & control, organization & management, and technological integration.

See additional information on this site pertaining to the Center’s mission, participants, activities, work products, collaboration opportunities, and contacts.
