editor's notes

I would like to thank the new Classmate editor, Deb Lott, for giving me the opportunity for this final note. I know Classmate will continue to be a source of information for you and a creative pleasure for Deb.

After a 12 month term as editor, the glow is still there every time I hit the old typewriter keys. This is my chance to thank all the people involved with the Classmate staff, especially my own section members who pitched in without being asked. Jennifer Taylor, as assistant editor, shared the good and bad, made countless phone calls, came up with articles when she didn't have the time but knew I needed her, and most of all, became my true friend. Barbara Barron, Classmate's advisor, was a constant source of encouragement and never hesitated to do more than her share of work. Mrs. Barron will always be a special person to me. Thanks to Ann Malokas, my predecessor, for giving me the inspiration to start my "much-too-late" career in journalism.

When I leave the Naval Postgraduate School it will be with the knowledge that I have known and worked with some very exceptional and talented people. Thank you. □

This issue is my inauguration into Classmate. I welcome this chance to become involved again in journalism having edited my high school newspaper and assisted in the preparation for publication of numerous legal briefs. I am looking forward to the challenges and opportunities of working with Classmate. I only hope that I can follow Caroll Pilcher's traditions and high standards.

The Monterey Peninsula is both a lovely and interesting place in which to live. It is my hope that we at Classmate can continue with the excellent precedent of helping to make you more familiar with your community, its people, activities and natural beauty.

As with the beginning of most new ventures, I am eager for any suggestions or assistance. Come learn with me! □

Jane Kuck
President

Here it is May, a month in which Monterey is especially lovely, and it is more than difficult to stay indoors. Fortunately for all of us, during the wetter preceding months, we had many very successful and pleasant events which made the winter pass more quickly.

In March, the Art Auction was very well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Kris King did a wonderful job of supervising and coordinating all aspects of the Auction. This is an event which provides fun for the people in attendance as well as providing much-needed funds for many worthwhile community organizations to whom the proceeds are donated.

April brought many functions to our membership and one of the most popular among the younger citizens of La Mesa was the annual Easter Egg Hunt. It was such fun to watch the kids meet the Easter Bunny and the excitement which accompanied the discovery of each candy-filled Easter egg. A pat on the back and a resounding "well done" go to Lucy Pledger.

In our community, we discovered that we have a wealth of international expertise. International Day is always exciting as students and their families from many different countries demonstrate their native cultures, cuisine and dances. Thank you, Linda Jacobson, and the entire International Committee for organizing International Day, a day during which we were able to briefly tour the world.

The end of April arrived with the unique opportunity to view the history of Monterey through the Adobe Tour. Each year, we are asked to act as hosts for Larkin House or Stephenson House, alternating houses each year. This year we hosted Larkin House, a wonderful example of historic Old Monterey. The Adobe Tour Chairman this year was Susan Hanson, who did a superb job of handling 42 volunteers and managed to remain cool in the face of deadlines. All of us who participated in this year's Adobe Tour are grateful to Susan and to the Monterey History and Art Association for allowing us to share in this enriching experience.

One of the best aspects of being president of OSWC is the ability to publicly thank all those people who have contributed so generously of their time, efforts and talents.

OSWC is a club consisting of many bright, energetic and enthusiastic women, and we are frequently reminded of this fact by the events I have just mentioned as well as by the people we were able to meet through the Welcome Aboard Coffee. Susie Etheridge, Sally Harrison and Pam Estilow hosted a delightful Welcome Aboard Coffee, and as each new class comes in, we have the chance to acquaint ourselves with new members of OSWC.

I close by recommending that you read Lucy Pledger's article to stay informed of the many programs which are being offered this month. We have some rather special dates on our calendar, several of which will allow us to enjoy new friendships as well as take advantage of the glorious weather. Enjoy! □

Spring is here, and the OSWC is offering a great escape from Spring Cleaning. Come join us on Wednesday, May 21st for the May House Tour and Lunch which will be a fun-filled day of touring some of the lovely homes on the NPS grounds and La Mesa. From 10:00-11:30 A.M. we will be welcomed into the homes on the NPS grounds. At 11:30 we will meet in the Terrace Room for wine or juice and a delicious lunch: salad, sole, Cavalier potatoes, peas, rolls and tea will be served in the La Novia Room. Moving right along, we will start touring six homes in La Mesa, all of which are most attractive and unique. This is a great way to get some new ideas and hints on how you can decorate your home and to see just how attractive Navy Housing can be. The May House Tour and Lunch has been very successful in the past, and we are looking for all of you to join us for the day and promise it will be fun and exciting. The cost of lunch will be $5.50 for members and $6.50 for non members. A reservation form will be out in the May Pink Flyer, but if for any reason you don't receive yours please call me at 375-1114 and I'll be happy to take your reservation. Please call a friend or get a group together now. Anyone is welcome to come just for the lunch at the La Novia Room even if you are unable to tour the houses. We of OSWC are looking forward to seeing all of you on this day. I might add that this will be the only luncheon planned for this term so don't miss this great opportunity.

The fabulous Gala Ball is June 7th and it will be an elegant evening for all who attend. The Del Monte Hotel is celebrating it's 100th birthday in the grand style of the past. Aquacades will perform in the pool during the poolside cocktail party and string quartets will be playing on the terraces. A formal dinner will be served in the Barbara McNitt Ballroom reproducing the original menu from the opening of the Del Monte Hotel. Tickets will be quite limited, and reservations are made through a special flyer. The occasion will be formal. The Centennial celebration will run from the 6th through the 8th of June and will consist of varied activities, recreational events and exhibits. We are all indeed fortunate to be here during the Centennial celebration and it is hoped that many of you will be able to participate. □

OSWC COURTESIES:

Courtesies are extended by OSWC in the form of flowers or cards to student wives who are hospitalized, seriously ill, or who have had a birth or death in the family. If you know of anyone to whom flowers or a card should be sent, please contact Lynne Turowski, 382-4679. □

LADIES BIBLE STUDIES

The Protestant Women of the Chapel sponsor a non-denominational Bible study which meets weekly in La Mesa homes. Join us every Thursday from 9:30 to 11:15 a.m. to discover the joys and assurances that God's Word has for a world in confusion. Child care is provided at a minimal charge. Currently, we have six studies: Mark, Philippians/Colossians, Genesis, Survey of the Minor Prophets, The Attributes of God, and Design for Discipleship. Even if you've never read the Bible before, you are welcome, and encouraged to join our fellowship. You need not be a Chapel member. For more information, please call Dee Brunson, 649-3077. Pay as you grow.

When you start to work, it's easy to spend your whole paycheck.

And that's a good reason to join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because Bonds grow with you. So while you're working hard doing your job, Savings Bonds can be working hard doing their job. And that job is making money for you.

Bonds can help cultivate your dreams. Whatever they are. A college education, down payment on a new house, or a long-awaited vacation. Even a retirement nest egg.

Put U.S. Savings Bonds to work for you, storing away the fruits of your labor.

Plant the seeds of your future today. You'll be surprised what they can grow into.

E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

NAVY RELIEF SOCIETY:

EDUCATION PROGRAM

With high school graduations coming up next month comes the anticipation of college. The question of how the family budget can be stretched to cover the costs of higher education becomes a major worry in many Navy and Marine Corps households.

The Navy Relief Society, which has maintained its own Education program for the past 15 years, is introducing a new Guaranteed Student Loan program for the 1980/81 school year and beyond, in order to provide wider and more responsive assistance to members of the Navy and Marine Corps who are trying to help their dependent children meet these costs.

This Guaranteed Student Loan program was described in the 7 January issue of the Navy Times. In summary, an unmarried dependent son or daughter of an active or retired member of the regular Navy or Marine Corps (including Reservists on extended active duty), who is a U.S. citizen, is eligible to participate in the Guaranteed Student Loan Program while enrolled in, or accepted for admission to an approved educational institution on a full-time basis.

Navy Relief has made arrangements with the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York to make these loans to persons sponsored by the Society under the provisions of the Federal Guaranteed on the basis of reserves supplied by the Navy Relief and held by the United Student Aid Fund (a private, non-profit corporation). Each participant may borrow up to $2500 per year, and a total of $7500 for undergraduate education. For graduate or professional schools, this limit rises to $5000 per year and a combined total of $15,000. The student does not need to make any payments until nine (9) months after graduation. Then he or she commences paying 7% simple interest and repayment of the principal over a period extending up to 10 years, as arranged with Chase Manhattan.

There is no deadline for submission of applications to Navy Relief, but you should allow a minimum of twelve weeks lead time to be sure that the money is available when needed to enter school.

If you are interested in details, send for an application package by writing to:

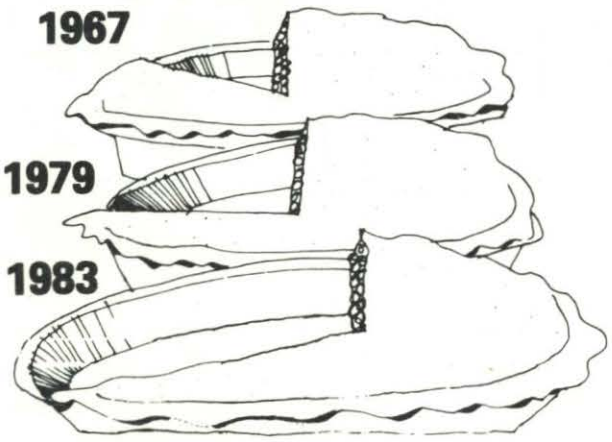
American Pie.



It's a Fact:

The average American family spends nearly a thousand dollars each year for energy use. These costs have increased from about $615 in 1967, and are expected to be close to $1,500 by 1983. Responsible energy use today will ensure everyone a piece of the energy pie tomorrow.

CAN NAVY RELIEF HELP?

Petty Officer John Q. Mechanic's car has broken down. The transmission in his '78 Camaro has given out and the estimate for the repairs is going to be about $450-more than he has in his pocket plus what he would get on the next pay day. What a predicament! No transportation! No way to get to work! Who could help? Would this qualify for a loan from Navy Relief? It sure seemed like a hardship to him.

In desperation he calls the local Navy Relief office and makes an appointment to talk his financial situation over with an interviewer. A review of his budget shows that P.O. Mechanic can afford to operate and maintain his car under normal circumstances. And clearly his two year old car is worth repairing. Within hours Navy Relief arranges an interest-free loan, repayable by allotment at a convenient rate, to cover the difference between the cost of the repairs and what he can pay now.

Special loans for emergency car repairs is one of the many ways Navy Relief is helping Sailors and Marines around the world.

When a prolonged breakdown would cause serious problems or an inordinate delay in the use of the car, Navy Relief can help with essential repairs-not bent fenders. The standards for evaluating requests for this type of assistance are simple:

Can you afford to run and insure the car, once it has been fixed? Is it forcing you into debts that you can't pay? Are the costs reasonable and is the car worth it? Expensive repairs on an old klunker usually result in throwing good money after bad. Is there a real need for the car right away? Or can you take care of the cost of repairs on payday?

Navy Relief is not a loan company. It does not finance major investments such as the purchase of a motor vehicle or assist with the monthly payments. These should be arranged through a bank or credit union and regular payments should be provided for in your budget. However, a car breakdown usually strikes out of the blue. Navy Relief can often assist with a non-interest loan to make essential repairs to a car you can afford to operate and maintain within your income.

To avoid delay in receiving service at the Navy Relief office, call in advance to find out the hours of operation and bring repair estimates, a copy of your Leave and Earning Statement (LES) and information on your outstanding bills with you.

Navy Relief office location: Herrmann Hall, downstairs from the quarterdeck. Hours: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 10-1. Telephone: 373-7665.

Eskaton Hospital Lecture Series

It's not too late to catch the last speaker in the Hospital's Lecture Series. Jon Morrow Lindbergh will be speaking, Friday, May 9, on "The Oceans: Conservation or Exploitation?" The lecture will begin at 2:00 and the price will be $10. Following his talk the Hospital will host a wine and cheese reception. Tickets will be available at the door in the Steinbeck Forum at the Monterey Conference Center, One Portola Plaza, Monterey. For further information call Marty Worms 649-3835. □

Somebody needs you.

Red Cross. The Good Neighbor.

Sometimes we become so accustomed to hearing a call for help that we tend to ignore the fact that there is a continuing need for this help. The American Red Cross, Central California Blood Services receives requests for 350-375 units of blood daily. This is the need of patients in 29 hospitals in a 4-county region (Monterey, Santa Clara, San Benito and Santa Cruz) served by this program. Everyday at least that many people must respond to the need for blood by donating.

On TUESDAY, MAY 27TH, the Naval Postgraduate School will hold a Blood Drive from 1000 to 1400 in the Barbara McNitt Ballroom of Herrmann Hall. Considering the size of NPS, our response to Blood Drives in the past has not been great. Please remember that every person counts and that students, faculty, staff and spouses are all asked to donate. In order to save time and make donating more convenient for you, appointments will be made at 20 minute intervals. Please complete the Donor Pledge Form below and deposit it in the Red Cross Box at the Student Mail Center or return it to SMC# 2430 by May 21st. If you have any further questions or wish to make an appointment by phone, please contact Sue Penix at 649-8752.

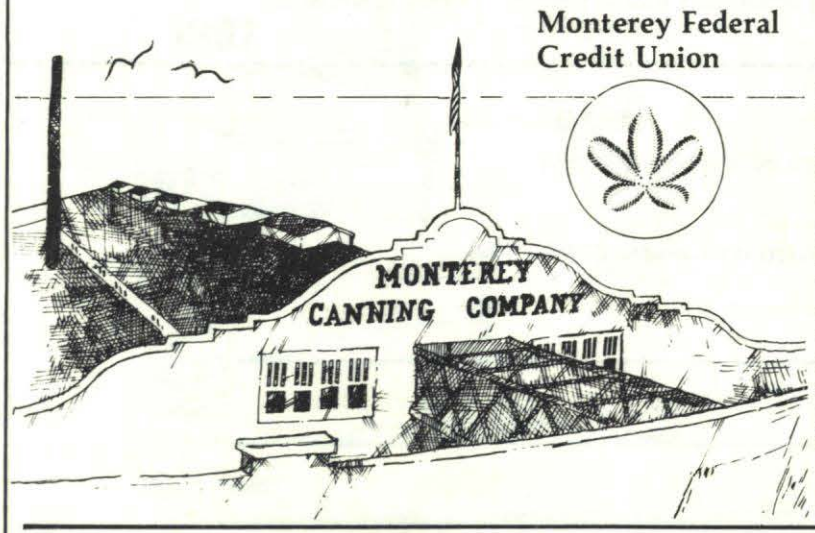
Cannery Row— A Reminder Of The Past
Monterey Federal Credit Union— A Builder Of The Future



The sights, sounds and smells of Cannery Row have changed, and the faces are no longer those of Doc Ricketts and Hazel and Flora. Monterey has grown and a different kind of activity surrounds the once bustling canneries. We weren't around when the fishing fleet unloaded its cargo or when the gang good naturedly smashed up Doc Ricketts' lab, but we are here for today's Montereyans who want to build their futures with a high 7% annual dividend on savings, low interest rates on loans, and many special services to make financial matters easier. Doc, the fleet, and the canneries are all a part of our colorful past. At Monterey Federal Credit Union, we're looking forward to the future. Why not come in and join us today.

Federal regulations prohibit payment of dividends in excess of available earnings.

LITTLE THEATRE

by Marybeth Livengood

"IRENE" is coming to King Hall on May 16, 17, 23, and 24. "IRENE" has a special kind of charm made up of equal parts of high humor, vivacity, romance, and nostalgia. As a special attraction, "IRENE" contains some of the best-loved, most singable numbers in the history of the American musical theatre.

In its gay, light-hearted way, "IRENE" has a peculiarly contemporary flavor. Although originally produced in 1919, this modernized, revamped version carries its age with grace and style. Combined with its Cinderella-type story is the tale of a delightful Irish lass who believed in women's lib before the term was invented.

The year is 1919. Irene O'Dare helps her widowed mother in a little music shop in the Irish section of New York City. Mrs. O'Dare wants her daughter married and settled down with a decent, hard-working neighborhood fellow. Irene in her cheerful, sunny way, feels that there is more to life than that.

Irene feels the world is bigger than Ninth Avenue. Against all tradition, she is going to be a successful businesswoman. In fact, she installs the first telephone in the neighborhood in their shop as a start. It is through the initial phone call made to her new business that she embarks on a job that involves her with an amazing assortment of characters.

INTERNATIONAL MESSAGE
by Lud and Candice Sorrentino

Candice Sorrentino

Spring in Monterey is a new experience for many of us stationed at NPS. The transition from a not - terribly - uncomfortable winter to a brilliant and flower filled spring is so gently done we might forget to notice. Some of our International families and their friends will have more distinct memories of winter as they travelled last month to Bear Valley on the International sponsored ski trips. Some experienced snow for the first time and many had their first slide down snowy slopes. All will surely miss the fun that a cold winter can mean.

Easter, celebrated in April, is a holiday unfamiliar to some International families but the Easter Egg is a tradition shared by Christians and non-Christians alike. Long before the celebration of Easter, people celebrated a spring festival. They feasted, sang, danced and gave gifts. They rejoiced over the rebirth of life in the fields and woodlands. Since the first Easter the Christian religion spread to many lands and the joy of the Resurrection became mingled with the joy of the spring festival. Both celebrations stood for new life. For ancient peoples the symbol of the new life was the egg and when the shell broke new life came into the world. For countless years it was the custom to give eggs as gifts during the spring festival. The ancient Persians and Chinese did it as did the people of Northern Europe during the Middle Ages. The practice of giving eggs-chocolate or real-is still worldwide. We usually only color our eggs with bright dyes but in some countries of Europe decorating eggs has been a great art for many years.

In the United States the custom is the Easter Bunny brings the eggs and hides them. He is very shy and comes at night so no one will see him. How the story of the Easter Bunny got started is a mystery but the rabbit is an old symbol of the spring festival representing the abundance of new life. We hope our International children enjoyed seeing the Easter Bunny at the annual OSWC Egg Hunt and that they will return to their countries with warm thoughts of hunting for colored eggs under the trees of Monterey.

International Day has always been a highlight of life here at NPS and it was no less this year. The costumes, food, dancing and singing were all terrific but the friendship that develops when people work together is the greatest memory. Thanks to the many people who worked so hard on an exciting day and night! □

Navy Bleu

by Patty Wasson

In the March/April issue of Classmate a printing error was made in my Navy Bleu column. The Fried Rice dish, Nasi Goreng, is from Indonesia, not India.

As for this issue the recipes below are from the south. I sought the help of my Georgia aunts for recipes and they sent their favorites, which are fast becoming mine too. So you'll give them a try and enjoy!

APRICOT FROZEN SALAD

2 large cans apricots, 16 oz. each
1 large package of marshmallows
1 small jar maraschino cherries
1 12-14 oz. can crushed pineapple and juice
4 t. maraschino cherry juice
¼ t. salt
2 T. lemon juice
1 pint whipping cream
1 c. mayonaise, not salad dressing

Dice fruit and cut marshmallows in small pieces. Add all the remaining ingredients and mix gently. Let the mixture stand in the refrigerator for several hours, then stir again gently and pour into a freezer proof dish. Place in the freezer for several hours. To serve; take out of the freezer and cut in portions. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving.

SAUSAGE AND WILD RICE

1 lb. bulk sausage (hot is best)
2 medium onions, chopped
1 5-6 oz. box wild rice
¼ c. flour
½ c. milk
1 8 oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
2½ c. chicken broth
½ t. salt and dash of pepper

Cook rice as directed on box. Brown sausage and drain. Brown onion lightly in some of the sausage drippings, then mix with the sausage. Mix the cooked rice, mushrooms, and sausage mixture and set aside. Cook flour, milk, broth till thickened, similar to a white sauce. Add the salt and pepper to the sauce along with the sausage/rice mixture and pour into a 2 quart casserole. Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. This dish may be made ahead and refrigerated; just increase the cooking time by 15 minutes if cold.

CORN BREAD DELUXE

1 8oz. cream style corn
1 c. corn meal
3 t. baking powder
8 oz. sour cream
½ t. salt
¼ c. shortening
3 eggs

Sift dry ingredients. Beat the eggs and add sour cream and corn. Combine all the ingredients. Pour into a 9" square pan and bake at 400 degrees for 15-20 minutes.

COOKED TOMATOES

3 14oz. cans tomatoes
1½ t. salt
pepper to taste
3 T. brown sugar
dash cinnamon
3 onions, chopped

Combine all ingredients and cook slowly for one hour. Serve with rice, sausage and blackeyed peas for a truly southern meal.

BEAN SALAD

1 c. celery, sliced
1 c. fresh cut green beans, drained
1 c. small English peas, drained
1 red onion, sliced
1 small jar pimento, chopped
1 small can water chestnuts, sliced
½ c. slivered almonds
1 c. white wine vinegar
½ c. salad oil
¼ c. sugar
Dashes of salt, pepper and garlic powder

Mix all of the above ingredients and store in the refrigerator in a covered dish. Serve the next day. This dish keeps well.

FRUIT COBBLER

1 stick margarine
1 c. flour
1 c. sugar
¾ c. milk
1-1½ c. pitted cherries, blackberries or peaches

Melt one stick margarine in a casserole. In a bowl mix the flour, sugar, and milk. Add the melted margarine and pour this mixture back into the casserole used to melt the margarine. Cover with the fruit and bake at 350 for one hour. It is best served warm with vanilla ice cream.

PEANUT BUTTER CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope gelatin
1 c. cold water
2 egg yolks, well beaten
½ c. sugar or light corn syrup
½ t. salt
½ c. peanut butter
2 egg whites
½ t. vanilla
1 baked pie shell or crumb crust

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup of the water. Combine egg yolks with ½ of the sugar, ¼ c. water and salt in top of a double boiler. Stir and add gelatin. Place over boiling water; beat constantly with rotary beater till thick and fluffy. Cool. Place peanut butter in a bowl. Add remaining water gradually. Beat until smooth. Add cooled egg mixture and vanilla. Blend with beater. Beat egg whites until foamy adding remaining sugar; beat till stiff. Fold into the peanut butter mixture. Turn into pie shell. Chill until firm.

JUDGE BRETTS' SHRIMP MULL

Into a large stewing kettle put:

2 qts. water
2 14 oz. cans tomatoes
1 can tomato soup
1 c. diced white bacon
1 c. chopped onions
2 cloves garlic, sliced
1 whole lemon, sliced

Brown in a flying pan:

1 c. diced bacon
1 c. chopped onion
1 stick butter

Transfer this to the kettle when done and add:

1 c. chopped celery
1 t. celery seed
15 drops tabasco
1 small bottle tomato catsup
2 T. worcestershire sauce
¼ t. allspice
¼ t. curry powder

Boil all of the above for 2 hours. Add five lbs. raw shrimp. Cook gently for one hour. Add 1 c. sherry and 1 stick butter. Thicken with saltine cracker crumbs. Serve with flakly rice. Serves 8-10. □

The Peripatetic Palate

by Jennifer Taylor

For a pleasant change this month, we would like to share with you a list of the local restaurants and clubs which offer happy hours. A group of dedicated researchers has diligently attended happy hours for over the last two months, in order to bring you this informative and up-to-date report. The list is far from complete, leaving you to continue on in this field of research, perhaps to add your opinions and selections to a future list. We have not used any particular order in listing, as all the happy hours are quite good, although we do tend to return to a couple of favorites, The Sardine Factory and The Club.

The Sardine Factory 701 Wave, 373-3775, Friday 4-7. Free hot hors d'oeuvres: Deep fried fish, squid, shrimp bits. Small crab sandwiches and assorted cold goodies. Drinks are less expensive during happy hour. Seats are usually still available till 5, but it gets quite crowded after 5. Cozy atmosphere, lots of interesting people.

The Club 321 D Alvarado, 646-9244, Mon.-Fri. 5-7. Free 6 foot sandwiches from Weird Harolds. They usually have three of them which they slice into good sized portions, so we suggest getting there early for a seat. Luxurious surroundings, good view, backgammon and chess tables. Well drinks $1. Special drinks are also cheaper during happy hour.

Casa Maria Cannery Row, 373-0611, Friday 3:30-6. Free Mexican foods-chips, guacamole dip, nachos, bite sized tacos, and a variety of hot Mexican hors d'oeuvres. Get there as early as possible, since it starts at 3:30 and seats are at a premium. The food is great, the view of the bay is oustanding. Well drinks are approximately $1, and their special drinks are cheaper during happy hour. We definitely recommend the strawberry daquiris and margaritas.

Brasserie 301 Alvarado, 649-3133. Good variety of hot and cold food. Rather crowded, but a good crowd and atmosphere. Drinks are $1.50 for large "bucket" drinks.

General Store and the Forge in the Forest 5th and Junipero, Carmel, 624-2233, Mon.-Fri. 4-6. Fried squid, chicken, quiche (a specialty of the house), cheese and crackers, fresh vegetable tray with dips. Cozy atmosphere, fireplace, gets a bit crowded so get there early. Drinks are large doubles for the price of regular drinks.

Brasstree Lounge at the Doubletree Inn Monterey, 649-4511, Mon.-Fri. 4:30-6:00. Shrimp, calamari, and an assortment of other hot and cold foods. The view is great, since the lounge is located on the top floor of the Doubletree. The seating is quite extensive. Drinks are two for the price of one.

The Hog's Breath Inn San Carlos and 5th, Carmel, 625-1044, 4-6 every night. Cheese board with assorted crackers, steak tartare with dip, fresh veggie tray with dip. This is a unique restaurant, with seating outside at rough hewn redwood tables, some in small individual areas with fireplaces. There is some seating in the Pub. Drinks are nominally priced during happy hours.

Captain Hooks at the Holiday Inn Monterey, 394-3321, Mon.-Fri. 5-7. Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. Chicken, sausage, bean burritos, cheese and crackers and other assorted goodies. Not a really inspiring atmosphere, but again the view is great; you can't beat the free food, and the drinks are $1 and $1.50.

Sly McFly's Cannery Row, 649-8050. Hot hors d'oeuvres, neat stained glass windows and decor. Drinks are reduced for happy hour. Not much room.

NPS-Trident Room Herrmann Hall. Light hors d'oeuvres, buttered popcorn. Drinks discounted. Fridays only-3pm to 7pm.

HOW TO CUT YOUR DRIVING BY 15 MILES A WEEK

President Carter has asked us all to drive 15 miles less every week. And if you're like most drivers, you can save 15 miles—and probably a lot more—just by changing your driving habits and planning ahead. Here are five easy ways to save 15 miles:

- Set aside one day a week as your "car-free" day.
- Join a work pool, school pool or shopping pool.
- Trim your driving by two miles a day.
- Think before you drive. Combine trips and be sure each trip is necessary.
- Ride with someone who's already on the road—the bus driver.

ROARING CAMP & BIG TREES NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD: An Excursion into Yesterday

"Dixiana Shay" winds her way toward the summit of Bear Mountain

by Deborah Raines

One of the special benefits of living on the Monterey Peninsula is the variety of interesting places to visit within a few hours drive. The natural beauty of Big Sur, awe-inspiring Hearst Castle, charming and quaint San Juan Bautista, the bustling city life of San Francisco are but a few of the varied splendors beckoning week-end explorers.

One of our family's favorite day trips is to the Roaring Camp and Big Trees Narrow Gauge Railroad near Santa Cruz. Nestled in 187 acres of virgin redwoods, Roaring Camp is a replica of an 1880's logging town complete with an old-fashioned train station, a cozy general store, and a pond with ducks to feed.

The star of the show, of course, is the Big Trees Steam Train ride through spectacular redwood forests up to the top of Bear Mountain. The trains are powered by authentic narrow gauge steam engines which have been restored. Passengers ride through the breath-taking scenery in open cars during the hour long ride. Throughout the trip, the conductor provides a lively commentary concerning the history of the engines, the area, and the historic redwoods.

Stops are made at Cathedral Grove for a short nature study and picture taking, and at the top of Bear Mountain. At this point, passengers are allowed to leave the train to hike, explore and picnic. The only group to leave the train on one such occasion, we were impressed by the unspoiled beauty and peaceful atmosphere. An hour later, the next train arrived and we continued our excursion back down the mountain.

For guests who prefer not to pack their own lunches, a delicious Chuck Wagon Barbeque is available on weekends from 12-3 at the base camp. Served from May through October, the meals are prepared the old-fashioned way, over an open fire outdoors. Reservations should be made early in the morning; package tickets are available at the ticket office which include both the steam train ride and the Chuck Wagon Barbeque.

A special feature at Roaring Camp during the summer months is a moonlight steam train party on Saturday nights. The evening includes the steam train excursion, the Chuck Wagon Barbeque, entertainment and dancing. Parties are for large groups only and usually need to be booked well in advance. More information can be obtained by calling (408) 335-4484.

The operating schedule for the steam train ride is as follows:
April-June 7--One train daily at 12 noon; Saturday and Sunday at 11 am and 12:15, 1:30, 2:45 and 4:00 pm.
June 7-Sept. 1--Trains daily at 11 am, 12:15, 1:30, 2:45, and 4:00 pm.
Sept. & Oct.--Same as April through June schedule.
Nov. through April--One train daily at 12 noon; weekends at 12:00, 1:30, and 3:00. (No trains run Christmas Day)

Roundtrip Railroad Fares are $5.95 for adults, $3.95 for children 3-15, and free for children under 3. Discount tickets and maps are available at the Naval Postgraduate School Recreation Office.

Roaring Camp is a wonderful "Get away from it all" escape only an hour and a half from Monterey. Follow Highway 1 North to State Route 17; take the Felton exit off 17 North and proceed 3 miles west to Graham Hill Road and Roaring Camp. You'll be glad you did! □

Wandering the Backroads

by Jennifer Taylor

Having always been addicted to country roads and untravelled lanes, we have discovered a vast network,a treasure trove of just such byways in Monterey County. Carmel Valley is full of small, twisting, nearly one lane roads, many of which lead up into the hills and afford outstanding views and glimpses into hidden valleys. One of the more charming of these roads is Robinson Canyon Road, a meandering track that leaves Carmel Valley Road just past the Mid Valley Shopping Center (turn left off C.V. Rd.). It twists and turns in sometimes breathtaking curves, climbing up into the Santa Lucia Mountains through dark tunnels of redwoods at first, then up into Steinbeck's "pastures of heaven". These large grassy meadows come as a surprise to eyes used to the rough rocky terrain passed through on the way up. One of the most lovely sights occurs when the crest of the ridge disappears to reveal a peaceful valley farm, complete with smooth green meadows, tranquil grazing cows, and a calm blue lake with white ducks. Even in early spring the temperature is warmer then the Valley's (definitely warmer than the Peninsula's). Unfortunately, all the land is privately owned, and very definitely posted as private property, so some beautiful picnic spots were reluctantly passed by. Even so, the drive itself was worthy of a peaceful Sunday afternoon.

Another beautiful drive takes you out through Carmel Valley village, and on into the valley itself, following the Carmel River back up through the gentle curves of the hills. Following the road out to Cachagua Rd. and turning left again the road continues up into the Santa Lucia Mountains, through terrain similar to Robinson Canyon Rd. This road eventually turns to a dirt road, still passable to normal vehicles during the summer months. At the end of this rather trying journey lies a peaceful haven from the worries of the everyday world, known as Tassajara Hot Springs. Here you can bathe in warm sulfur springs, sunbathe, and contemplate a different view of life as you observe the workings of a Zen Buddhist colony.

Carmel Valley Road continues on for miles, until it reaches Greenfield, on Hwy. 101. A few miles before it reaches Greenfield, a turn to the left again takes you up into the hills to Arroyo Seco. In the summer time, the heat builds up in this narrow canyon, and it is a wonderful place to picnic and swim. The waterfalls and quiet pools offer a peaceful way to spend a day. I'm sure there are many other roads to be discovered, quiet out of the way places where the sound of the birds and running water take away some of the cobwebs built up in the mind after a week of work and study. □

Ways to Spend....

by Ann Malokas

An hour...

Walk out on the Coast Guard Pier and watch the sea lions on the water just below the Coast Guard buildings in Monterey.

Watch the organ grinder's monkey on Fisherman's Wharf.

Window shop on Cannery Row or spend your money at dozens of unique shops and restaurants.

Enjoy El Estero Park on Aguajito Rd. Places to picnic or enjoy the sun. Dennis the Menace Park for the children. Don't forget bread to feed the ducks.

Drive to Jack's Peak on Route 68 at the airport entrance. A spectacular view of the bay in late afternoon. Also picnic tables and some hiking trails.

Discover the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History on Forest and Central Ave. Displays of animal life on the Peninsula. Great for children, too.

Take a 30-minute bay cruise. Several cruises are offered from Fisherman's Wharf.

Try the Diving Bell at the end of Fisherman's Wharf. It takes you thirty feet below the water to the kelp beds. It has been out of service recently but pehaps it will be ready during the tourist season.

Peek in the Colton Hall Museum on Pacific Street between Madison and Jefferson. Daily from 10-12 and 1-4.

Capture the spirit of a European cafe with a bite of pastry at the Viennese Bakery and Restaurant at 469 Alvarado in Monterey.

El Estero Park, by Kathy Oliphant

A few hours...

Enjoy Lover's Point in Pacific Grove. Picnic area. Beach. Glassbottom boat rides from 9-5.

Collect shells at Carmel beach. Watch the strong currents—not for swimming.

SeePoint Pinos Lighthouse on Ocean View Boulevard in Pacific Grove. A good picnic place. Also a Coast Guard Museum open on Saturday and Sunday from 2-4.

How does the mind of man really work? Sometimes not so quickly. The ballpoint pen was originally conceived in 1938 and the finished product wasn't seen until 1945. It also took seven years to produce a roll-on deodorant. Not so surprisingly, it took thirty-five years to develop radar. But why did it take thirty years for a zipper? The original idea came in 1883 and the product in 1913. □

THE ABC'S OF FUEL ECONOMY

Here are some easy tips to help you get more miles for your gasoline dollar. Use them all and you can save as much as 10¢ on every gallon!

ANTICIPATE . . . stops, turns, lights, traffic, hills.

BUFFER . . . yourself from other traffic; leave room to react.

CONSERVE . . . momentum by avoiding unnecessary braking, turning, accelerating.

DECELERATE . . . using the natural resistance of the engine, road, tires.

ECONOMIZE . . . in motion; start smoothly and quickly; keep a steady pressure on the gas pedal.

FIX UP . . . your car; maintain correct tire pressure; keep your engine in tune.

BACK TO NATURE

by Donna & Alison DiLoreto

One of the most beautiful though lesser known natural attractions of the Monterey Peninsula is the Ventana Wilderness area of the Los Padres National Forest. It is located south of the Carmel Valley Highway and east of Route 1. After the novelty of shopping at Sak's, Macy's and the Carmel shops has worn off, you may want to consider an escape back to nature in the form of an overnight backpacking trip. Besides being away from the temptations that lure you into the stores, think of all the money you will save! Believe me, there is absolutely nothing to buy out there!

I must confess that it is not an easy trip to make. The terrain is rugged, consisting of mountains, valleys and creeks, and inhibited by quail, deer, mountain lions and bears. Ah, yes! One will also become accustomed to seeing thousands of lizards scurry across the path. We also had to ford the Carmel River or a tributary about a dozen times which really serves to demolish a pair of sneakers! The rewards, however, are great! Both the Carmel and Big Sur rivers are reputed to have superb trout fishing, though we didn't tackle this aspect. The scenery we saw during the five mile trek into our campsight was breathtaking! I'll never forget how cold the water was, freshly dipped from the river, or how dark it was that night. I'll also remember what a shock it was to see another human being on the trail after several hours of hiking, or the faint animal scent I detected long before we came upon the party of rangers and their mules. I have chosen to forget burning my sneakers on the fire by being over-anxious in drying them and the unpalatable flavor of the plastic-flavored freeze-dried eggs we ate for breakfast. Next time I plan to take a bagel; it couldn't weigh much more.

It was a wonderful opportunity for our family to become reacquainted after the hectic pace of our studies: (Vince at the P.G. school, Alison at La Mesa, and my own at the Monterey Institute of International Studies.) Needless to say, I was impressed with the excursion and really hope I'll have the chance to return before leaving this area. Our ten year old daughter also was moved by the experience as evidenced by her composition which follows.

THE PRETTIEST PLACE I'VE EVER BEEN

The prettiest place I've ever been is a camp called Bluff Camp. There are many rocks that are very smooth. The water is crystal clear with lots of little pebbles at the bottom. Bluff Camp is well shaded by all the green trees. Most of the trees are willows that hang down to the ground. There are many tall cliffs with chips broken off. The air is fresh and the wind blows quietly as it rustles through the trees. □

or
A TREATISE ON OVERCOMING THE TEMPTATIONS OF CERAMICS

by Sandy Brown

I was overdrawn at the bank; my charge cards and check book were off limits and Macy's and Carmel Barnyard were rapidly becoming dirty words. I was searching for something my three year old daughter and I could do that was free, more quiet than Dennis the Menace Park and more rewarding than soap operas and housework.

When I saw the fishermen casting off Fisherman's Wharf, it struck me as an activity that would pass the time and could prove to reduce my grocery bill.

I investigated the type of equipment needed, bait, tackle, etc. and after a twenty dollar expenditure (justified by the prospect of broiled salmon) I embarked on what has developed into the most challenging hobby of my life (even outstripping ceramics). After several days of fishing with excited anticipation, only four starfish had graced my hook and I had not seen any of my fellow optimists catch so much as a bite.

The seals and sea otters no longer appeared cute as I suspected they were in a conspiracy to chase away my "fish". The tourists' inquiries as to what I had caught (or planned to catch) became annoying and I started answering their questions with new and inventive responses. I often said I caught imaginary fish and I'm sure some questioned my sanity. I rationalized my wasted hours in many ways. At least the house wasn't getting any dirtier (or cleaner); the fresh air was good for us (I fell asleep every night after supper); and I met the most interesting people (an unemployed painter from Seaside was a regular curious fan).

One sunny morning I had my first bite - later I learned that sandsharks often break lines and $13 rods. Undaunted, in a state of extreme agitation and armed with a new stronger rod, I continued my determined vigil. My daughter, in her boredom, announced to all passers that Daddy was getting real mad and Mummy had better catch a fish for supper.

Friends phoned nightly to inquire about my elusive "fish" which was beginning to take on its own magical personality. I told them to listen carefully for the signal--a bloodcurdling yell which I was sure would be audible in La Mesa.

A local fisherman, admiring my persistence and noting how many sinkers I had lost, told me to find some free, used sparkplugs from local garages to use as weights. This broadened my wealth of new found friends to include half the mechanics in Pacific Grove and Monterey. He also told me I'd have better luck off the rocks at Lover's Point. With tackle and daughter I moved my display to those craggy heights. After imprisoning my daughter between two safe rocks with three cans of coke and a peanut butter sandwich, I again attempted to catch the "fish". Somewhere in that green water he was swimming around just waiting to be caught--my fish. I contemplated pricing taxidermist fees--maybe bronzing would be more appropriate.

Now, at Lover's Point some people catch fish. I saw them with my own eyes--fat little rock cod with beautiful reddish brown gills and spines. Their captors assured me they were delicious broiled with lemon juice and butter.

The tricky part appeared to be casting out far enough--avoiding surfers, divers, rocks, kelp and assorted fishing lines. It can get crowded out there but a spirit of enthusiasm and tolerance to each others' activities added atmosphere.

Sunday morning my girlfriend and I went out bright and early, (without children) she for some sun and relaxation and a good book, and I to exterminate a very doomed fish. After my usual silent prayers, chants of "Here fishy, fishy," three times, my ceremonial first cast into the rocks and the second cast into the kelp, we settled back to wait.

Soon the surf was up and my territory was polluted with surf boards and young men awaiting their waves. Shouting "fore" I cast my line, weighted with 2 spark plugs, into their midst, narrowly missing a particularly interesting (albeit youngish) Robert Redford type. An irate gentleman behind us bellowed warnings about the dangers of hitting a surfer. My friend turned to him calmly and quipped,

"You don't think we are wasting a perfectly good Sunday trying to catch fish, do you? We're trying to catch a surfer."

My comrades continued to catch fish. I began to wonder if it was the fog of cannabis or the aroma of Coors hovering around these young fishermen that attracted the fish or perhaps it was their ability to cast 100 yards further than I could.

A strange phenomena occurred. Every man that passed, who had ever fished, developed this overpowering urge to instruct me the in the art of fishing. My hook was too big/small; I had too much/little bait. The casting action should be in the wrist/shoulder/hip (pick one). The advice continued until finally I pretended I was deaf and could only lip read ancient Egyptian.

Even at cocktail parties I received elaborate instructions on the art of casting. First you must have a strong rod, a large hook and plenty of weight on the line. The bait must be attractively presented for the fish. The secret, you see, is all in the back swing and the rapid wrist action. You must let go at 12 o'clock high, allowing for strong winds and correcting your aim accordingly. Simply fishing began to sound like it required a degree in Physics or Underwater Acoustics.

An absolutely irrational tantrum engulfed me the morning my husband announced that he was going to catch a fish. With perseverance and scientific application be began experimenting with casting techniques across the front lawn and into the road--much to the surprise of passing motorists--aha! a flying sparkplug!

"If you catch a fish," I shrieked, "I'll never speak to you again." Then I hid my rod and tackle and retreated into silent rage. I finally capitulated and took him fishing. He cast wildly and I immediately grabbed the rod and held on--refusing to relinquish control--even when nature called. We had no luck--thank God. We stopped at the fish market on the way home to remind ourselves what the elusive creatures looked like. Tempted to bring one home and claim it as our own, we decided our desperate scheme was really too dishonest and not in the sporting spirit of true fishermen.

I've now reached the meaningful point where fishing is fun. If I ever do catch a fish I'll be surprised but I really don't care anymore. I just enjoy the sun, the waves, the fresh air, beautiful scenery and the interesting people I meet. Wait a minute! Was that a bite? Here fishy, fishy --(eyes heavenward) Please--just one lousy fish!!! □
