Federal Women's Program honors 'best'

FNOC's Panek nets dual recognition

When Karin Strasser Kauffman began teaching at the University of California, Los Angeles in the 60s, she said hardly a book had been written about women and their achievements.

That's changed, Monterey County's fifth district supervisor told the audience at the Fourth Annual Federal Women's Program Awards Luncheon held in Herrmann Hall's Barbara McNitt Ballroom on March 22.

"There should be no excuse today," she added, "for someone saying, 'I don't have a favorite woman in history.'"

Highlighting the luncheon was the naming of the Federal Women's Program 1989 People of the Year.

Sherryl Panek, a computer systems analyst at Fleet Numerical Oceanography Center, was named both Employee of the Year and Woman of the Year.

Lt. Cmdr. Barry Boyd, Naval Postgraduate School supply officer, is the Supervisor of the Year, and Gloria Norton-White, a purchasing agent in the Supply Department, is the Outstanding Equal Opportunity Official of the Year.

In his closing remarks, Rear Adm. Ralph W. West Jr., NPS superintendent, said, "It is time to re-dedicate ourselves to the purpose of the Federal Women's Program and work to remove those barriers that still exist."

Former NPS professor receives Navy's highest civilian award

A retired NPS Distinguished Professor Emeritus was presented the highest award the Secretary of the Navy can bestow upon a Department of the Navy civilian employee.

Dr. Allen Fuhs, chairman of the Space Systems Academic Group until 1987, received the Distinguished Civilian Service Award from Rear Adm. Ralph W. West Jr., NPS superintendent. The award is signed by former Secretary of the Navy James Webb.

Fuhs, who began at NPS as a professor of aeronautics in 1966, was awarded the title of distinguished professor in 1974. During his NPS tenure he served separate stints as chairman of the Aeronautics Department, Mechanical Engineering Department, and

Uniform changes to summer whites

The uniform of the day for all U.S. Navy personnel at the Naval Postgraduate School switches to summer white on April 30.

The third Tuesday of every month is officially designated uniform day at NPS, so all U.S. Navy personnel will wear the summer white uniform on that day.

All watchstanders at NPS will wear summer whites, the prescribed uniform of the day. Summer whites are an authorized uniform for all NPS personnel not on watch.

Officers and chief petty officers will be authorized to wear khaki as an alternative uniform. They still must wear summer white for watchstanding.

The designated senior service representatives for other U.S. military branches will prescribe uniforms for their personnel to correspond with authorized or prescribed Navy uniforms.

Wanted: NPS men and women to be 'somebuddy' special

by Lt. William S. Spann

The Buddy Program of the Monterey Peninsula, a non-profit agency similar to the Big Brother/Big Sister organizations elsewhere, urgently needs volunteer Big Buddies.

Since 1971, the Buddy Program has been bringing adult volunteers who can be good role models together with children who are growing up in single parent homes.

Over the years, students from NPS have taken time away from the books to provide this much-needed friendship. Cindy Joerger, program executive director, said the men and women from the school have been some of her best Big Buddies.

"The track record of NPS Big Buddies has been outstanding; my only wish is that I had 50 more of them in the program," Joerger said.

The unique feature of a "buddy" relationship is the one-on-one interaction between a child aged 6 to 16 who is missing one parent, and an adult who can offer a little special, extra attention. Currently, six NPS students serve as buddies or on the board of directors.

Joerger said 19 boys and two girls are now waiting for the right Big Buddy. He or she could be you.

If you're interested in becoming a Big Buddy, call 649-0276. Without you, these children will have to look elsewhere for a friend.

Fuhs

Space Systems Academic Group.

Fuhs was recognized in the citation for outstanding performance at the Naval Postgraduate School and as the driving force in establishing two new space systems curricula - space systems engineering and space systems operations - which filled an urgently needed capability for the armed services.

The citation further recognized Fuhs' contributions as a teacher, researcher and his dedicated service on government boards and professional societies. During his career, Fuhs was the editor-in-chief of several major scientific journals and president of the prestigious American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Fuhs completed his undergraduate work in mechanical engineering at the University of New Mexico. He holds a master's degree and doctor of philosophy in mechanical engineering from the California Institute of Technology.

For your information

Census

The 1990 Decennial census will be held next week at NPS. The census is required by Article 1, Section 2 of the Constitution of the United States.

The Secretary of Defense and the Bureau of the Census have agreed that the military services will conduct their own enumeration (census).

NPS will conduct the census in coordination with a representative of the Salinas District Office of the Census Bureau. The representative will provide appropriate forms and questionnaires, and will conduct training for personnel designated as unit representatives and census clerks.

It is intended that all military personnel will complete a Military Census Report whether living in private residences, military family housing or group quarters (BOQ, BEQ). Personnel living in other-than-group quarters will, in addition to the Military Census Report, participate in the general census of the United States. These personnel will receive the appropriate census questionnaires from the Census Bureau by mail at their homes.

All unit representatives and census clerks will be trained and sworn-in as census workers by the Bureau of Census. All hands will complete and return to their unit representatives a Military Census Report between April 2 and 6.

Voting

In this year's West Virginia primary on May 8, voters will choose candidates for one U.S. senator and four U.S. representatives. State office vacancies include treasurer, attorney general, 34 senate seats and all 100 house of delegate seats.

Candidates winning these primaries will run for office in the general election on Nov. 6.

Members of the U.S. Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents may register and request ballots by submitting a completed federal post card application not later than 30 days before the election.

The voting information center has recorded messages from the candidates as well as other information concerning the elections. Voters may call autovon 223-6500 or (202) 693-6500 to hear the messages. The voting information center can receive calls and answer questions 24 hours a day. Voting assistance counselors may also contact their service voting action officers through the voting information center.

Student brief

The superintendent, director of programs, assistant director of programs, director of military operations, security manager, safety manager and international education officer will address all new students at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in King Hall.

Attendance is mandatory. Topics to be covered are security management, safety, the honor code, the Officer Student Advisory Council and the international sponsor program.

All students whose first quarter convene on April 2 will attend, including those students who arrived in February for the six-week refresher. Curricular officers will provide a list of attendees to the security officer, Code 043, and to the Safety Officer, Code 005, by close of business Tuesday, April 10.

Microfiche

Are you up for promotion? If so, a microfiche of your service record will be reviewed by the promotion board. Officers in zone for promotion should review their field and microfiche service records for accuracy. You may review your field service record by visiting Personnel Support Detachment Monterey's Customer Service office in East Wing Herrmann Hall, Room E113 between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. A microfiche copy of your service record must be ordered using NAVPERS Form 1070/879. This form also is available at PSD Monterey's Customer Service Office.

Remember, it's your career.

'WalkAmerica'

The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation is sponsoring a "WalkAmerica for Healthier Babies" on Sunday, April 22.

WalkAmerica, which begins and ends at the National Guard Armory at Monterey Peninsula College, is a 20 kilometer (12.5 miles) walkathon to benefit the March of Dimes and its efforts to prevent birth defects. In 1989, more than 650,000 people pledged more than $43 million to this event.

While reading these paragraphs, another baby was born with a birth defect. People with "heart and soles" are needed to take a walk down the road to a healthier and happier future for children.

For more information on participating, call 646-WALK, or stop by the NPS public affairs office in the basement of Herrmann Hall to pick up a pledge card.

Bazaar

The third annual International Bazaar will be held Saturday, April 7 from noon to 4 p.m. in the Monterey Institute of International Studies' courtyard at 440 Van Buren St. in Monterey. The bazaar, one of the institute's most popular public events, will feature international food booths, entertainment from around the world, presentations representing academic programs and art exhibits.

The featured international cuisines, among many others, include Russian piroshkis, Japanese yaki soba and "chocolate salami" from Italy. Aztec and Polynesian dancers will also be part of the festivities.

Admission is free, and the bazaar will take place rain or shine. For more information call Tak Sukekane at 647-4108.
