RESUME OF GUILLERMO OWEN

Guillermo Owen was born in Bogota Colombia, on May 4, 1938. He obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics from Fordham University in 1958 and his Ph.D. degree, also in mathematics, from Princeton University in 1962.

He was Assistant Professor of mathematics at Fordham from 1961 to 1965, when he was promoted to Associate Professor, a position which he held until 1968. He spent a year as Visiting Professor of mathematics at the University of the Andes in Bogota, Colombia, and in 1969, accepted a position as Associate Professor of mathematical sciences at Rice University. He was promoted to Professor in 1974 and stayed at Rice until 1977, except for a year (1975-1976) as Visiting Professor of mathematics of decisions at the University of Paris IX. From 1977 to 1979, he divided his time between SER Institute of Research (a non-profit corporation) and the University of the Andes in Bogota. He has also held Visiting and Adjunct Professor positions at several universities in the United States, Europe, Latin America, and Asia. He is associate editor of Management Science and the International Journal of Game Theory, and editorial columnist for the Latin American Times.

Since December of 1979, he has been Adjunct Professor of mathematics at the Naval Postgraduate School.

He is a member of the National Academy of Exact and Physical Sciences of Colombia.
