

Calhoun: The NPS Institutional Archive
DSpace Repository

---

History of Naval Postgraduate School

Biographies

---

1964-09

PG School Welcomes the Lloyds

Peggy, Bangert; Lloyd, Henry F.

Monterey, California: Naval Postgraduate School

---

<http://hdl.handle.net/10945/59189>

---

This publication is a work of the U.S. Government as defined in Title 17, United States Code, Section 101. Copyright protection is not available for this work in the United States.

Downloaded from NPS Archive: Calhoun

Calhoun is the Naval Postgraduate School's public access digital repository for research materials and institutional publications created by the NPS community. Calhoun is named for Professor of Mathematics Guy K. Calhoun, NPS's first appointed -- and published -- scholarly author.

Dudley Knox Library / Naval Postgraduate School
411 Dyer Road / 1 University Circle
Monterey, California USA 93943

<http://www.nps.edu/library>

PG School Welcomes the Lloyds

Even 'though this is the family's first trip to California, coming to the USN Postgraduate School is, in a sense, like "coming home" for CAPT and Mrs. Henry F. Lloyd.

There's a very special attachment to the Postgraduate School for the Lloyds. They were married while CAPT Lloyd, now the Deputy Superintendent, was himself a post-graduate student. In fact, schools have played an important part in their lives; they met while then-Ensign Lloyd was in Pensacola for flight training and his bride-to-be was visiting her Randolph-Macon College roommate in that city.

Following their wedding in the USNA Chapel and CAPT Lloyd's completion of eighteen months postgraduate study in Annapolis, it was off to continued study at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass., where, after ten months graduate study, CAPT Lloyd received his Masters degree in Aeronautical Engineering. Still other schools were in the family's future, among them the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Ft. McNair in Washington, D.C., where he completed the resident course in 1956.

What's In A Name?

This charming couple anticipate with real enthusiasm their stay in Monterey. And how's this for coincidence — Mrs. Lloyd's given name is Monterey! In answer to the inevitable question about a connection, she answered with a laugh, "I'm so sorry to have to say no. It does seem such a shame, but as far as I know, there's no family history here."

The vivacious Mrs. Lloyd's home originally is Georgia, while her husband hails from St. Augustine, Fla. Since their marriage, they have well-covered the East Coast — from Key West, Fla., to Brunswick, Me., where CAPT Lloyd was Commanding Officer of Fleet Air Wing III, the largest ASW Maritime Wing on the East Coast.

While in Key West, where he was Commanding Officer of Air Development Squadron One, CAPT Lloyd developed an interest in fishing — still his favorite sport. The whole family loves all forms of water sports and thoroughly enjoyed their stay in Key West.

"But then we can truly say we've loved every duty station," said Mrs. Lloyd. "We've found that each area has much to offer, and there's no reason not to be happy here."

The family is excited about discovering the many advantages of this area, and they have already begun enjoying California with a trip to Disneyland last month. Included in the close family are Anne, 16, who will be a student at Castilleja School in Palo Alto; Susan, 15, a sophomore at Monterey High

CAPT and Mrs. Lloyd pose in their quarters with two of their children, Fred (left) and John. Not present for the picture were Anne, 16 and Susan, 15.

— U.S. Navy Photo

School; Fred, who is 12, and John, 8. They anticipate, with their parents, seeing much of the West Coast during their tour at Monterey.

Mrs. Lloyd has already gotten well into the swing of things. She has assumed her position as advisor of the OWC, and shortly after their arrival, she was helping out in the Protestant Sunday School by filling a summer vacancy for a class of four-year-olds. Although she is not now a golfer, she said with a smile, that she's already felt the "golfing fever" on the Peninsula and hopes to start lessons.

The Postgraduate School is indeed fortunate to welcome CAPT and Mrs. Lloyd and their family. May Classmate add its own "Welcome Aboard."

OWC News

The Officers' Wives Club held its monthly meeting in King Hall on August 20 and was well attended by both the "old timers" and the new students' wives. Attending as special guests were Admiral and Mrs. Charles K. Bergin and Capt. and Mrs. H. F. Lloyd.

After the introduction of the Board and the reading of the minutes, Admiral Bergin welcomed the new students' wives. Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd were introduced and extended a welcome from the wives.

A humorous skit was presented depicting the life of both student and wife while at the Postgraduate School. The cast included Valerie Caston as Joe, the student, and Sally Graesse as Mabel, his wife. The chorus was composed of Paula Jesburg, Jo Herd, Judy Day, Margaret Hutchins, Lil Eckert and Maryann Burns. Poster girls were Pat Krum, Lee Baker and Ann Lanman. Narration was very ably handled by Ann Thomas, and the pianist was Jan Loman. Fran Preston directed the skit. Operations Analysis was the hostess group for this month.

The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Sharrah, and the crowd moved on to the Bali Room for delicious refreshments and to sign up for the many activities offered by the Officers' Wives Club. Everyone seemed to find some activity to occupy her time while her husband "burns the midnight oil."

—Penny Bangert